DEDICATION

We've made our happy, carefree way
Through Richmond's halls, and now
The time has come for us to pause
To make our farewell bow.

31143006856422
373.7946 Shi
The shield.

We look around us and regret
The scenes and pals we leave,
But there are four bright-shining stars
For whom we 'specially grieve.

One is the jolly, jovial man
Who made this year fly by
With plans he worked out just for us—
Our thanks to Mr. Fry.

Another one brought on that DAY
When Seniors wear a crest
Of glory that outshines the sun—
A bow, please, from Miss Best.

And yet another staged for us
The dance of Senior fame.
With joyous gratitude we speak
Of Mr. Randall's name.

And last, but not the least of all,
We cheer Miss Weatherby,
For she it was who banqueted
Our group anatomy.

So here's to four who saw us through
Our year of work and play,
Until, both safe and sound, we came
To graduation day.

DRAMATIC PERFORMANCE

"The Man Who Came To Dinner," a three-act comedy produced by the Drama 2 Class on December 5, 1947, proved to be one of the most outstanding shows ever presented at Richmond Union High. The leading role of Sheridan Whiteside, played by Don Hosking, proved that hard work and talent brings success.

In Milpetas, California, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stanley (Richard Ross and Arva Goddard), was the scene of the play. Sheridan Whiteside, a very famous and eccentric lecturer, was detained with a broken hip at the Stanleys'. His nurse was Miss Preen, played by Virginia Green.

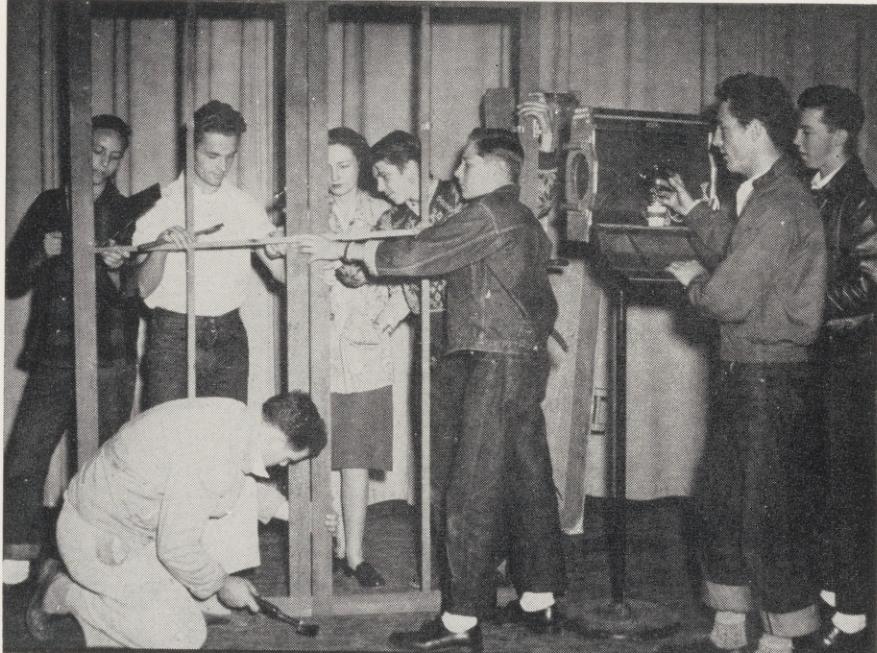

Maggie Cutter, Sheridan's secretary and played by Penny Holland, had a little trouble with her love affair as a result of Whiteside's interference. Beverly Carlton, played by Clayton Pinkerton, and Banjo, played by Don Ward, were two outstanding parts. Don Ward portrayed the part of Professor Metz, as well as Banjo, which is very difficult.

Miss Frances Byrnes is very proud of her cast and quotes, "Everyone in the cast was excellent. The members are not only talented but they are dependable, which is a great help to the director and makes the show a success."

VARSITY FOOTBALL SEASON

The Richmond Oilers opened their 1947 football season on September 20th by entertaining a suspected championship bound Napa team on the Richmond turf. Neither team succeeded in crossing its opponent's goal line and the game ended in a 0-0 deadlock. Napa carried the ball down to the Oiler 16-yard strip but from there Napa was pushed back by Richmond's hard charging linemen. Richmond's threat failed to materialize when a Napa punt was blocked and a pass to Lesti took the ball down to the Napa 4. After 4 tries to score, the Oilers had picked up only 2 yards and Napa took over. Anderson saved the day when he caught a Napa back who was out in the clear on his way to a touchdown. The Oilers showed symptoms of a strong defense for the coming season.

On September 27th the Oilers were singed by the Sacramento Dragons, 12-0, in a game under the lights on the Sacramento Junior College gridiron. Richmond kicked off to the Dragons, who started to roll, putting together 4 first downs before the Oilers stopped them on the 20-yard line. Richmond took over and on the very first play, Orgen fumbled and this allowed Sacramento to take over. 3 plays later the Dragons scored on a pass through center. Richmond's spread formation and trick plays failed to score, but yards were gained by them. Charlie Hokanson, back to punt on fourth down, shot a pass which was good for about 30 yards. Melloway and Anderson made good gains but not consistent enough to score. Sacramento scored again in the fourth quarter. The Oilers now had played 2 games, scored no points and had 12 scored against them. The Oilers still lacked the offensive power to win.

The A.C.A.L. season started on October 3rd and the Oilers opened it at home against the defending champions, the Piedmont Highlanders. Piedmont went home with a 6-0 win over the Oilers. The game stood out as a battle between Piedmont's championship backs and Richmond's superior line. The Highlanders' score followed an interception on the Oiler 40. Richmond's nullified score was made when Charles Hokanson took a blocked kick out of the air and scampered 60 yards to a touchdown only to have it called back by an offside penalty. In the closing moments of the game George Mattos tossed a long pass to Frank Domminic behind the Piedmont secondary but he was caught on the 15 yard line. After 3 games, Richmond had failed to score a single point but they had only an average of 6 points per game scored on them.

October 10th was anything but a bright sunny day of football, for the Oilers and Gouchos played the entire game in a steady drizzle on the Richmond turf. A sustained drive during the first quarter resulted in Richmond's touchdown. Bunky Flores picked up yards around end, while Marvin Melloway and Norm Anderson crashed through the line for more yards. It was finally Anderson who crossed the goal for the first Richmond touchdown of the year. That touchdown also won the game for Richmond because the final score was Richmond 6, El Cerrito 0. The El Cerrito boys showed a lot of fight throughout the game and some people, who were so surprised that the Oilers didn't walk all over the Gouchos, promptly gave El Cerrito all the credit. From the defeats El Cerrito received at the hands of the other teams in the A.C.A.L., the Gauchos can be glad they met Richmond in the rain.

Richmond was supposed to travel over to Berkeley for a game with St. Marys on October 17th but because of rain and a muddy field, the game was played on the Richmond gridiron. In that game the Oilers made up for the first four games in which they only scored 6 points. Richmond led at will against St. Marys and took advantage of pass interceptions. Dave Dezell's interception led to Richmond's first touchdown. Also making interceptions were Dick Summers and two each by Ray Perasso and Norm in Anderson. St. Marys found a stone wall in the form of Wayne Mays and Dean Moore, guards, whenever they tried to buck the line. When the game ended, the Oilers had rolled up 32 points and held St. Mary's scoreless.

On October 24th Richmond was entertained by the Berkeley Yellow Jackets. This game was the Oilers' chance to pull up into the league lead but Berkeley had other plans such as 18 to 7 in their favor. In the first quarter, Berkeley intercepted an Oiler pass, put together a few first downs, and made a score. Richmond followed a few minutes later with a pass to Summers and a lateral to Melloway, which carried down to Berkeley 1 yard line. On the next play Bunky Flores carried the ball around right end for the score. The conversion was good and Richmond was out in front 7-6. Charlie Hokanson was outstanding in the line for the Oilers. He smashed through the line countless times setting Berkeley backs on their seat for good.

losses. Summers and Burns, Oiler ends, cut short many end runs. Summers made the turf look like a bed of springs on one tackle at the expense of a Yellow Jacket. On hitting the turf both boys bounced, with Summers on top. Berkeley scored in the second quarter and at half time were leading 12 to 7. Berkeley scored in the last half making the final score 18 to 7. In the closing minutes, a long pass was taken by Ray Hurlburt who was knocked out of bounds on the 3-yard line. Berkeley decided Richmond was not going to score and by the time the gun went off, the Oilers had been pushed back to midfield.

On Halloween, October 31st, the Hayward Farmers came to Richmond and were clad in appropriate colors for the day. The black and gold boys kept up with the Oilers in the first half but slid behind in the last half to lose 33-18. Richmond scored in the first few minutes of the game. Melloway, Oiler halfback carrying the ball, found himself trapped and lateraled to Hokanson, Oiler tackle, who carried the ball to the one-yard line to set up the Oilers' first score. To score a touchdown is a linesman's dream and Charlie missed the score by one yard. Back in the Piedmont game, Hokanson scored on a blocked kick and a 60-yard run only to have it called back on an offside penalty. On Hayward's very first offensive play, Paradero was through the line and secondary before the Oilers knew what happened and Hayward had scored. Despite the 18 points Paradero scored, the Oilers hit their stride and really looked like a championship ball club.

On November 7th the twice beaten Oilers traveled over to the once beaten Alameda Hornets. The game lived up to its pre-game dope, that the teams were equally matched and the Oilers managed to win 13 to 12. As the first quarter ended, Melloway intercepted a Hornet pass and was off for about 30 yards to a touchdown. To open the second quarter, Hokanson got off a high end-over-end kick down to the Hornet goal line. Richmond nearly had heart failure for the ball was carried down the right side of the field and into the open. Anderson dodged a blocker and caught the Alameda ball carrier on about the Richmond 35. Mary Melloway called signals. He was especially outstanding on defense. He was all over the field making tackles. Robert Buss, Oiler tackle, did a good job of keeping the Hornets on the ground. By winning this game, the Oilers assured themselves of a spot in the A.C.A.L.-O.A.L. playoff.

November 14th, the last game of the season, matched the Oilers against the efforts of the Albany Cougars. The game belonged to Richmond all the way in as much as it was played on the Oiler turf and it was the Oilers who did all the scoring. Losing no time in rolling up their first score, the Oiler backs picked up 35 yards in 3 downs after a fumble had been recovered. It was Marvin Melloway who powered over from 5 yards out. Albany fumbled several times. Dave Dezell, Oiler center, intercepted a Cougar pass in the last quarter and was away 30 yards to the Oilers last score which made it 31 to 0. Every senior was given a chance to play as it was the last game of the season. Also many third stringers were given some experience for next year's varsity.

JUNIOR VARSITY SEASON'S EVENTS

The Oiler Jayvees scheduled the San Rafael Military Academy to open the '47 grid season. The game was played September 26th over at San Rafael. The Soldiers had a quite noticeable weight edge over the Oilers and within the first three minutes, the Academy had scored. The try for the extra point was not good. The Oilers showed the Soldiers that they too could score when George Mattos pitched a pass to end Tom Kent to score a touchdown from midfield. At half time, the score was tied 6-6. In the last half, the Soldiers showed their power by making two sustained drives which resulted in touchdowns. The Oilers left San Rafael on the short end of a 20-6 score.

The following week, on October 2nd, the Richmond lightweights entertained the Albany Jayvees but the Cougars failed to have a good time as the Oilers rolled over them 44-0. It was Roy Oregon, a sprinter from last season's rack team, who scored the bulk of Richmond's touchdowns. Most of them were made on good long runs. Mel Topance and Guy Dierman also showed they had ability to pack the pigskin throughout the ball game.

On October 6th, the Jayvees, full of confidence after their one-sided win over Albany, traveled over to Piedmont. The Junior boys even got more confident when, midway in the first quarter, Lefty Kent intercepted a Piedmont lateral to set up a score for the Oilers. Piedmont, always a tough team to deal with, came back in the second quarter by intercepting an Oiler pass on the 16 and carried the ball around end on the next play for the score. The conversion was good. Piedmont scored again on a series of end runs to add 7 more points to their total. With Bill Glenn and John Goodrich calling the signals, the Oilers played good ball.

On October 20th, the Farmers from Hayward played host to the Oilers from Richmond. When the game was over, the Junior Oilers were top heavy by 8-0. The game originally scheduled for October 16th was postponed because of rain. It was played on the following Monday. The Oilers kept the game under control and scored on a pass to Hurlburt and a touchback on Hayward. John Good and Ron Wells were outstanding in the line.

Pittsburg was the next opponent to fall before the Jayvees. The game took place on the Richmond turf and the score was 14-0. The Pittsburg boys, clad in orange and black, looked big but not good enough to beat the Oilers. Out for revenge for last season's 7-0 defeat at the hands of Pittsburg, the Oilers got it in good form by doubling the score. Gene King and Don Clawson did a good job at center and in backing up the line, while Cherry, Nunn, Kollewe and Barraza stood fast in the line.

The Jayvees met their closest rivals, the El Cerrito Gouchos on October 30th on the local lot. Many Goucho fumbles aided the Oilers in rolling up a 16-0 win. It was early in the initial quarter when Paul Owyang, Oiler back, scampered 30 yards to a touchdown. Kent then converted for the extra point. That was as far as the Oilers got in the first half. In the third quarter, El Cerrito was crowding their own goal line and were caught behind it by Jim Cherry to chalk up 2 more points for the Oilers. Responsible for Richmond's other touchdown was Mel Topance when he intercepted a Goucho pass and carried it back 50 yards. The Oiler line showed its strength when it held El Cerrito on the 9-yard line with a first down.

The Berkeley Jayvees came over to Richmond on November 6th for a tussle on the Oiler field and departed on the low end of a 18-6 score. Berkeley kicked off to Richmond and the Oilers took the ball rolling up first downs galore and even reaching the Jacket goal line only to have a penalty call back the touchdown. The Oilers toted the ball all over the field, pushing forward, then being tossed back. Berkeley didn't even get a chance to carry the ball until the first quarter was just about over. Ray Hurlburt, fullback, and George Mattos, halfback, played a great game.

The Oiler Jayvees closed their season on November 13th over at Alameda. The game was full of scores for both teams but the Hornets managed to get one ahead just before the gun went off to end the game. It was Alameda who pushed over for the first score. By half time, Richmond had also scored and was leading 19-6. Mattos scored twice, while Lesti crossed for the other 6 points. The third quarter was disastrous for the locals as they were held scoreless while Alameda piled up three touchdowns. New hope came to the Oilers in the final quarter as they pushed across for another score which gave them a one point edge. However, the score stayed that way for only a short time. Richmond kicked off and Alameda returned it for a score which made it, Richmond 26, Alameda 31. This was the final score. As the game ended, the Oilers were once again threatening on the Hornet 2-yard line.

The Girls Athletic Association had a large membership this semester. The members attended play days at Stanford, Washington High School, and San Francisco State. On January 13, the G.A.A. held its informal banquet in the cafeteria. In volleyball the Oilerettes were victorious but were given stiff competition by the Teenettes. At the time this article goes to press, the list of the G.A.A. members, who were to receive awards, had not been issued.

A black and white aerial photograph of Richmond, California, showing a dense urban area with a mix of residential and industrial zones. In the foreground, there's a large industrial complex with several long, low buildings and a prominent chimney. A network of railroads with tracks running in various directions is visible, intersecting with the city's layout. Residential neighborhoods are shown as clusters of smaller houses, particularly in the upper right and background. The overall scene is a typical mid-20th-century industrial town.
